

John Herr, RPh, FIACP Named PCCA 2007 Pharmacist of the Year!

Congratulations to John Herr, of Town & Country Compounding and Consultation in Ridgewood, NJ, who has been named PCCA’s 2007 M. George Webber, PhD Compounding Pharmacist of the Year.

David Sparks, PCCA’s President and CEO, announced the award during PCCA’s January 2008 International Seminar. “This year, we recognize a pharmacist who has become one of our profession’s most respected compounders. His colleagues appreciate his generosity and willingness to share and network with them. His pharmacy staff respects his dedication to compounding, compassion for patients and concern for their own well-being as his employees.

“Active both professionally and politically, John is an IACP board member and very involved within his state pharmacy association. He played a key role in developing his state’s Compounding Pharmacy Academy, and has been a major fundraiser for the IACP Political Affairs campaign, helping to safeguard our profession. He has attended numerous PCCA seminars and events, is a previous PCCA Pharmacist of the Month and has just been appointed to PCCA’s Advisory Council.”

John also serves on the board of CSPN Community Specialty Pharmacy.

The pharmacist who receives this award epitomizes Dr. Webber’s commitment to meeting patient needs and upholding the highest quality and ethical standards in compounding pharmacy.
